Morning on CHANGE

Announcements made this morning on the stock and bond exchange show that two more special dividends have been declared, one of 60 cents by the Oahu Railway & Land Company, which makes the dividend payable on December 15, $1.25; and the other by the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Co., a special dividend amounting to 40 cents. This is also to be paid December 15, at which time the Pepee-keo will pay a $1 dividend and the Hawaiian Sugar Company a 20-cent one.

Ewa, due to the extra dividend declared and announced Friday, rose again today when 25 shares of it changed hands on the stock and bond exchange at 16. Twenty shares of H. B. & M. sold at $1.25, a quarter point decline. The gain of Ewa has been quite rapid. Its last sale before the extra dividend was declared was at 13.75, which makes the gain from that time to today 2.25 points.

Police Notes

Firm in the belief that his assailants were a party of soldiers, C. Olsen, was sent to the hospital this morning suffering a cut on the back of the head as a result of a mix-up near Ala Park. Olsen could not give a very accurate description of those who made up the party gathered at the recreation ground.

Carl Johnson declared that he was a structural iron worker when brought before the district court this morning upon a charge of appropriating a coat and other garments belonging to a fellow lodger. Upon being questioned more closely, Johnson admitted having taken the coat but denied any responsibility for other alleged thefts. He was sent to the reef for sixty days.

To face a charge of the theft of a thousand pounds of new copper wire, the property of the government electric plant, Chun Sun Jim, who was placed under arrest by Deputy Kellett of the detective force was this morning committed by District Magistrate Monsarrat to trial before the circuit court. The material was practically ruined through having been passed into a fire in order to separate the copper from the insulation.

Clifton Kroger, who was placed under arrest by Captain of Detectives McDuffie, following his return from Wahiawa, where Officers Gray and Carter went to investigate a series of alleged robberies charged against the man, was sentenced to serve one year at the city and county bastille following his arraignment before Judge Monsarrat this morning. Kroger was found guilty of taking money amounting to about $16. His depredations are said to have taken place at Castner.

Officers identified with the detective department are continuing their campaign against the army of vagrants, who have drifted into the city from island plantations or have dropped off here from trans-Pacific steamers, with the result that four Filipinos were placed under arrest last night, and this morning sentenced to spend a month at the Hotel Asch. Two defendants who were found to have secured lodgings upon the front steps of a downtown business house, declared that they had had money but that it had been stolen.

When Police Officer Sanders visited Frog lane for the purpose of quelling a large and noisy disturbance on a peaceful Sabbath morning he was given a lively reception at the hands of one Waselauf, who was found by the officer lying on the ground, with a badly battered head. Waselauf is reported to have fallen from a second story veranda but when interrogated by the police concerning the trouble, arose to his feet, and began an assault upon Sanders. Following a struggle the Russian was taken to the station. He was sentenced to one month's imprisonment when arraigned before District Magistrate Monsarrat this morning.

Fred Bates, identified with one of the military organizations at Fort Shafter, and a musician of considerable note, is alleged to have attempted to assault in an automobile driven by Miss Lucy Ward, daughter of Mrs. Victoria Ward, Bates, who this morning declared that he was under the influence of liquor at the time, stated that he had intended to stop the progress of the machine as he believed that it was in danger of running him down. The soldier was turned over to the military authorities by the police this morning. Miss Ward holds the appointment of humane officer under the direction of Sheriff Jarrett. The plucky young woman effected the arrest of Bates, who was brought to the station and there booked.

Stephen K. Beaman suffered a fall from a pile driver at Pearl Harbor Saturday afternoon which resulted in his being taken to Queen's hospital for treatment for a number of bruises from which he died. Beaman was employed at the naval station as engineer at the dynamo room. He had attempted to adjust a cable when he missed his footing and dropped 14 feet, crushing his skull and breaking many bones. He lived for a short time following the accident. The deceased is understood to have resided

ELECTION PROVES SURPRISE TO PACK

[By Latest Mail]

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The unanimous selection of Charles Lathrop Pack as president of the national conservation congress came as an evident surprise to him. It occurred when he had gone away from the convention hall for luncheon. Many of the delegates knew it would be difficult for Mr. Pack to serve another year, owing to other duties which he regards as sacred trusts, and when informing him of his election, they urged him not to decide the question of the presidency at present, but to give it further consideration in deference to the wishes of the majority of the delegates. This he agreed to do and he will act at least until the affairs of the fifth conservation congress are closed up. There are many details to look after as the attendance of delegates at the Washington convention was very large. More than 6000 regularly accredited delegates were appointed in answer to the official call.

The forestry work, as evidenced by 10 printed reports in pamphlet form prepared under the direction of the forestry committee of the conservation congress, is considered by forestry experts and lumbermen to be the best work that up to this time has been done for American forestry and lumbering. Mr. Pack is greatly interested in this work which he inaugurated and it will mean much for the cause if it can go forward under his experienced direction.

The convention insisted on the election of Charles Lathrop Pack as a recognition and approval of the fair, able and impartial manner in which he has conducted its affairs.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS MEET AND APPROVE WORK OF SUPERINTENDENT

Plunging into the discussion and settlement of a lengthy program of matters pertaining to the welfare of the public schools of the territory, the board of school commissioners met at the judiciary building this morning in its first session since the opening of the present term. The entire board was present, and its first action was to approve of all transfers and appointments of teachers made by Superintendent T. H. Gibson since the last session.

Although there are 19 matters scheduled to come up before the commission, but three were disposed of this morning. Principal among these were the applications from a number of teachers from different islands asking for leaves of absence on account of sickness and for other causes. Besides these matters, the greater part of the morning was taken up in the consideration of the several appointments and changes which Superintendent Gibson has made since the opening of school. While each action of the superintendent called for discussion, the board sanctioned them all.

The second session is being held this afternoon, and the commissioners believe that they will be able to dispose of several more matters of importance. Rev. J. W. Wadman, who recently made a tour of the coast, has requested talk to the grammar grade boys of the various schools on questions of morality, not sex problems, with the approval of the different principals. The matter of the proposed change making school hours from 8 until 12:30 o'clock will also come up for consideration, and also that of the principals of large schools with grammar grade classes to be holders of grammar grade certificates.

The third session will convene at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, at which time a discussion on the summer school and the matter of changes in textbooks on music will be brought up. The most important topic of the entire session, which will probably be taken up at this time, will be that of the introduction of vocational training and guidance in the public schools of the territory. Just what part the public schools will take in the floral Parade and Mid-Pacific Carnival will also be discussed. The session will come to a close with the consideration of such matters as the salary schedule, and the securing of a teacher for a school for blind and deaf mutes.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The services under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning at the Oahu penitentiary were conducted by Rev. R. B. Whitaker, who spoke on the subject, "The View of Christian Socialism From Jesus Christ's Standpoint." The speaker showed the difference between the conditions in the world today and the time when Christ lived. The address was received with great interest. Rev. Whitaker was also the organist for the services.

ADVERTISING EXPERT

PRaises PROCLAMATION
OF HONOLULU AD CLUB

Honolulu's Ad Club Thanksgiving proclamation has gained more than local attention. A copy of it went to all the ad clubs of America. As an evidence of the spirit in which it was received by people of the mainland a letter from William C. Freeman of the New York Globe received this morning says: "Dear Mr. Farrington: I read your proclamation in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin with a great deal of interest. I think it is entirely fitting that the president of an ad club should issue a proclamation because advertising means as much to the world as anything in the world, and because it means as much as any combination that can be formed of many other things."

Mr. Freeman is known throughout the country as one of the leading experts of America on advertising.
